About Us

Doing Business responsibly and successfully – doing good and doing well –are two sides of the same coin. We are a group of young professionals who believe that doing good for the environment and people around you is the way forward for any business these days. We integrate the artistic skills of the Indian artisans with our modern designing and marketing skills , thereby making these art forms suitable to the taste of the present day consumers. Sustainability is central to our business strategy and all our products are made of natural fibers. We work directly with the artisans, skipping the middlemen , making our products reasonably priced.

We believe in deep rooted relationships with our artisans which in turn results in strong personal loyalties.
